Christian Union at Penn

IN 1740, PENN WAS ESTABLISHED WITH THE MOTTO “LEGES SINE Moribus Vanae” (Laws without Morals are Useless). Founder George Whitefield sought to create a school that doubled as a house of worship. Over the years the University increasingly secularized, leaving students to depend on campus ministries and local churches for spiritual enrichment. To help meet the need for Christian influence on campus, Matt Bennett launched Christian Union at Penn in 2013.

Christian Union shapes the lives of students through its rigorous Bible courses, one-on-one mentorship with high-caliber ministry fellows, and a compelling weekly leadership lecture series. By God’s grace, the ministry has grown from a handful of students in Bible courses in 2013 to 109 students in the spring of 2018.

Christian Union seeks a spiritually vibrant nation marked by Christian values permeating every corner of society. To that end, the ministry is launching young men and women with determination to use their strategic influence for godly purposes. Christian Union students are leading change on campus: marshaling intellectual reasoning in the classroom, championing the Christian worldview, and transforming the athletic and social cultures. Alumni are influencing the world’s leading institutions and graduate programs.

We believe God wants to do so much more. Through your financial partnership, Christian Union can hire additional ministry fellows to reach even more students.

Join Christian Union in asking the Lord to move powerfully at Penn, rejoicing in His promise to draw near to all who seek Him.

If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and I will forgive their sin and will heal their land.

– II CHRONICLES 7:14

A STUDENT'S PERSPECTIVE

"My time here at Penn would not have been the same without Christian Union."
